THE 1960 TEAM CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE WORLD AMATEUR GOLF COUNCIL

It was a happy turn of events that took the 1960 World Amateur Team Championship to the Merion Golf Club, in the suburbs of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, in the United States. Merion supplied in abundant measure the two main necessities for such an occasion as the second playing for the Eisenhower Trophy — first, a warmth of hospitality and, second, a great golf course.

The spirit of the meeting is reflected in a few examples such as the following:

... Of the 126 players from 32 countries, 71 came to know Americans better as guests in the homes of members of Merion and other clubs. Private housing was provided for all players who requested it, as well as for a number of players' wives and officials.

... Every competitor played with eight others from eight different countries, with a few exceptions.

... Merion ladies furnished private transportation, from early morning until night. All players were provided free caddie service and lunches, with breakfast for early starters, thanks to a Hospitality Fund of more than $18,000 contributed by eight American business firms and more than 250 Member Clubs of the United States Golf Association. (Amateur status rules permit acceptance of expenses in such international events.)

... The Pine Valley Golf Club invited all players for a day of informal fun over its world-famous course after the Championship.

Thus the atmosphere was warm, friendly and ideal for sowing seeds of good will and peace. Although good will and peace cannot be measured in the way that a golf score can be measured, they were present in full supply throughout that week ending October 1, 1960. The events at Merion will not change the course of world history. But the spirit of Merion is the same quiet force that has always brought man closer to man. That was the meaning of Merion.

Fantastic Scoring by Americans

The second main ingredient for a fine Championship — that is, a great golf course — was provided completely by the Merion East Course. Merion has entertained many championships, and all the great golfers who have played it have a wholesome regard for its requirements in golfing tactics.

First Away. Jean Pierre Cros, of France, plays the opening stroke of the Championship.

Ben Hogan, in the midst of winning the 1950 United States Open Championship, remarked that no other course had kept him "so constantly on the defensive." Merion is by no means the longest of courses, measuring 6,694 yards, but it requires placement of shots from start to finish. Yet it is eminently fair—the lowest score ever made there was a 64 by Lee Mackey, Jr., a professional, in the 1950 United States Open; however, the lowest 72-hole score was 287—seven above par—by Ben Hogan, Lloyd Mangrum and George Fazio in tying in 1950.

Viewed against this background, the scoring of the United States team was fantastic in the second World Amateur Championship. The Americans' winning total was 834, 42 strokes better than Australia's second-place 876; Great Britain and Ireland was third with 881. This was in marked contrast to the first World Championship at St. Andrews in 1958; that event was notable for its closeness of competition, Australia winning in a play-off of a tie with the United States.

Merion's par is 70. It was broken eight times, all by the Americans; half of their 16 rounds were sub-par.

A team's score consists of the best three individual scores in each round. All of the Americans contributed to their team's victory—Deane Beman, aged 22; Robert W. Gardner, 39; William Hyndman, III, 44; Jack Nicklaus, 20. Their non-playing Captain was Totton P. Heffelfinger.

Here is how the United States' score was made:

	Rd. 1	Rd. 2	Rd. 3	Rd. 4	Total
Beman	71	67	69	75	282
Gardner	71	71	68	79	289
Hyndman	71	76	67	75	289
Nicklaus	66	67	68	68	269
Best 3	208	205	203	218	834

It was a miraculous coincidence that the United States players happened to be at their peak simultaneously. There is no other way to account for the fact that all four finished among the five lowest scorers in a field that included the best amateur golfers in the world, among them being Joseph B. Carr, three-time British Champion; Bruce Devlin, of Australia; Robert Charles, of New Zealand, and Henri de Lamaze, of France.

There is no official competition for individual low score; the World Amateur Golf Council feels that the Championship should be strictly a team event, and that no man can serve two masters—his team and himself. It is not difficult to imagine a player confronted with a situation where he should play safely for the sake of his team but boldly for his personal glory.

Even so, the status of the individual leaders should be recorded: Nicklaus 269, Beman 282, Devlin of Australia 288, Gardner 289, Hyndman 289.

Nicklaus' four rounds of 66-67-68-68 constituted one of the greatest scoring performances in golf history. Although Merion's fairways were wider, the rough shorter and the greens softer than for the American Open, the course was a hard test. It was very wet and slow the first two days, play was tiresomely slow, and there was a strong wind the last day. Nicklaus was magnificent. In the first round he had a putt at a 64 but three-putted.

Nicklaus' scores compared with par were:

Hole	Yards	Par	Rd. 1	Rd. 2	Rd. 3	Rd. 4
1	360	4	4	4	4	4
2	555	5	5	3	6	4

In	3,217	34	32	33	32	32
Total	6,694	70	66	67	68	68

In the third round Deane Beman, the American Amateur Champion, broke par with a 69 but, ironically, did not make his team that day, his fellow-players all outscoring him.

ARTICLES OF THE WORLD AMATEUR GOLF COUNCIL

Adopted May 2, 1958. Amended October 7, 1958.

ARTICLE I

The name of this council is THE WORLD AMATEUR GOLF COUNCIL.

ARTICLE II

OBJECT

Section 1. Friendship and Sportsmanship through Golf. The object of the Council is to foster friendship and sportsmanship among the peoples of the world through the conduct biennially of an Amateur Team Championship for The Eisenhower Trophy.

Section 2. Rules of Golf. The Championship shall be conducted in accordance with the Rules of Golf as approved by The Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, Scotland, and The United States Golf Association.

ARTICLE III

MEMBERSHIP

Section 1. Eligibility. Membership in the Council is open to any organization which:

(a) Constitutes the sole central authority for amateur golf in its country; and

(b) Has adopted and administers the Rules of Amateur Status of either The Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, Scotland, or The United States Golf Association.

Section 2. Election. An application for membership shall be supported by copies of the applicant's constitution and by-laws or similar documents and such other data as the Administrative Committee determines.

An applicant may be elected to Membership by the Council after determination by the Administrative Committee that the requirements for membership have been met.

Section 3. Finances. (a) The expenses of the Council shall be limited to the following:

(1) Insurance and maintenance of the Championship Trophy;

(2) Provision of prizes for individuals;

(3) Cost of stationery, postage, printing and other communications incurred by the Secretary of the Council.

All such expenses shall be shared equally by the Member Organizations and shall be payable annually in November to the Secretary. Each such payment shall be in the currency of the Secretary's country, unless prohibited by law or government regulation.

The income of the Council shall be limited to reimbursement of or other provision for the foregoing expenses.

No Member Organization may incur any expense for the Council, and no representative of the Council shall have authority to incur any expense except as expressly stated herein.

(b) Any other expense incident to the affairs of the Council shall be borne by the Member Organization whose representative incurs such expense.

(c) The expense of conducting the Championship shall be borne by the Member Organization entertaining it.

Section 4. Obligations and Discipline. The acceptance of membership in the Council shall bind each Member Organization to uphold all the provisions of these Articles and any rules or actions of the Council or the Administrative Committee.

Any Member Organization failing in these obligations or ceasing to meet the eligibility requirements may be suspended or expelled by the Council.

Section 5. Withdrawal. Any Member Organization may withdraw from membership by notifying the Secretary to that effect.

Any Member Organization so withdrawing shall remain obligated for its share of the Council's expenses for the year in which withdrawal occurred.

Normally, the Championship shall be held in the second or the third week of October.

Section 2. Place. (a) The Championship shall be rotated among the three following zones in the order stated:

(1) European-African Zone — Countries of Europe, Africa and the Middle East.

(2) American Zone — Countries of North America, Caribbean America and South America.

(b) The location of each Championship will be determined by the Council at its Biennial Meeting immediately preceding.

Invitations to entertain the Championship shall be submitted by Member Organizations to the Secretary at least three months in advance of the Biennial Meeting. The Secretary shall inform all Member Organizations of such invitations at least one month in advance of the Meeting.

Section 3. Form of Play. (a) Each Team shall consist of three or four players.

(b) The Championship shall consist of 72 holes stroke play: 18 holes each on four consecutive days of the Championship period. All the players of each Team shall be eligible for all four rounds; disqualification of a player under the Rules of Golf in any round shall not be effective for any subsequent round unless the Administrative Committee determines otherwise.

The Champion shall be the Team with the lowest such total score for 72 holes.

(c) If a tie for the Championship occurs, the Teams concerned shall play off at 18 holes stroke play, the exact day to be determined in advance by the Member Organization entertaining the Championship. The Team with the lowest total score by three players shall win the play-off. Should an 18-hole play-off result in a further tie, the Teams so tied shall immediately continue to play off hole by hole until the winner is determined; the total of the three lowest scores will be the Team score for each hole.

(d) Any tie for second or third place shall be determined by a hole-by-hole play-off immediately after conclusion of the Championship proper and on the day of the fourth round; the total of the three lowest scores will be the Team score for each hole.
