1970 MEN'S TEAM CHAMPIONSHIP

Since its beginnings in 1958, the World Team Championship for the Eisenhower Trophy has been truly an amateur event, primarily for the players. It is also a gathering of the nations, to compete together and to enjoy one another's company—and also to provide entertaining watching for spectators who may attend.

It was therefore encouraging when representatives of 36 nations entered the sixth World Amateur Team Championship at the Real Club de la Puerta de Hierro in Madrid, Spain, in September, 1970. This was the most ever to compete, a circumstance that must give comfort to those farsighted pioneers who organized the World Amateur Golf Council at the dawn of the age of jet airplane travel.

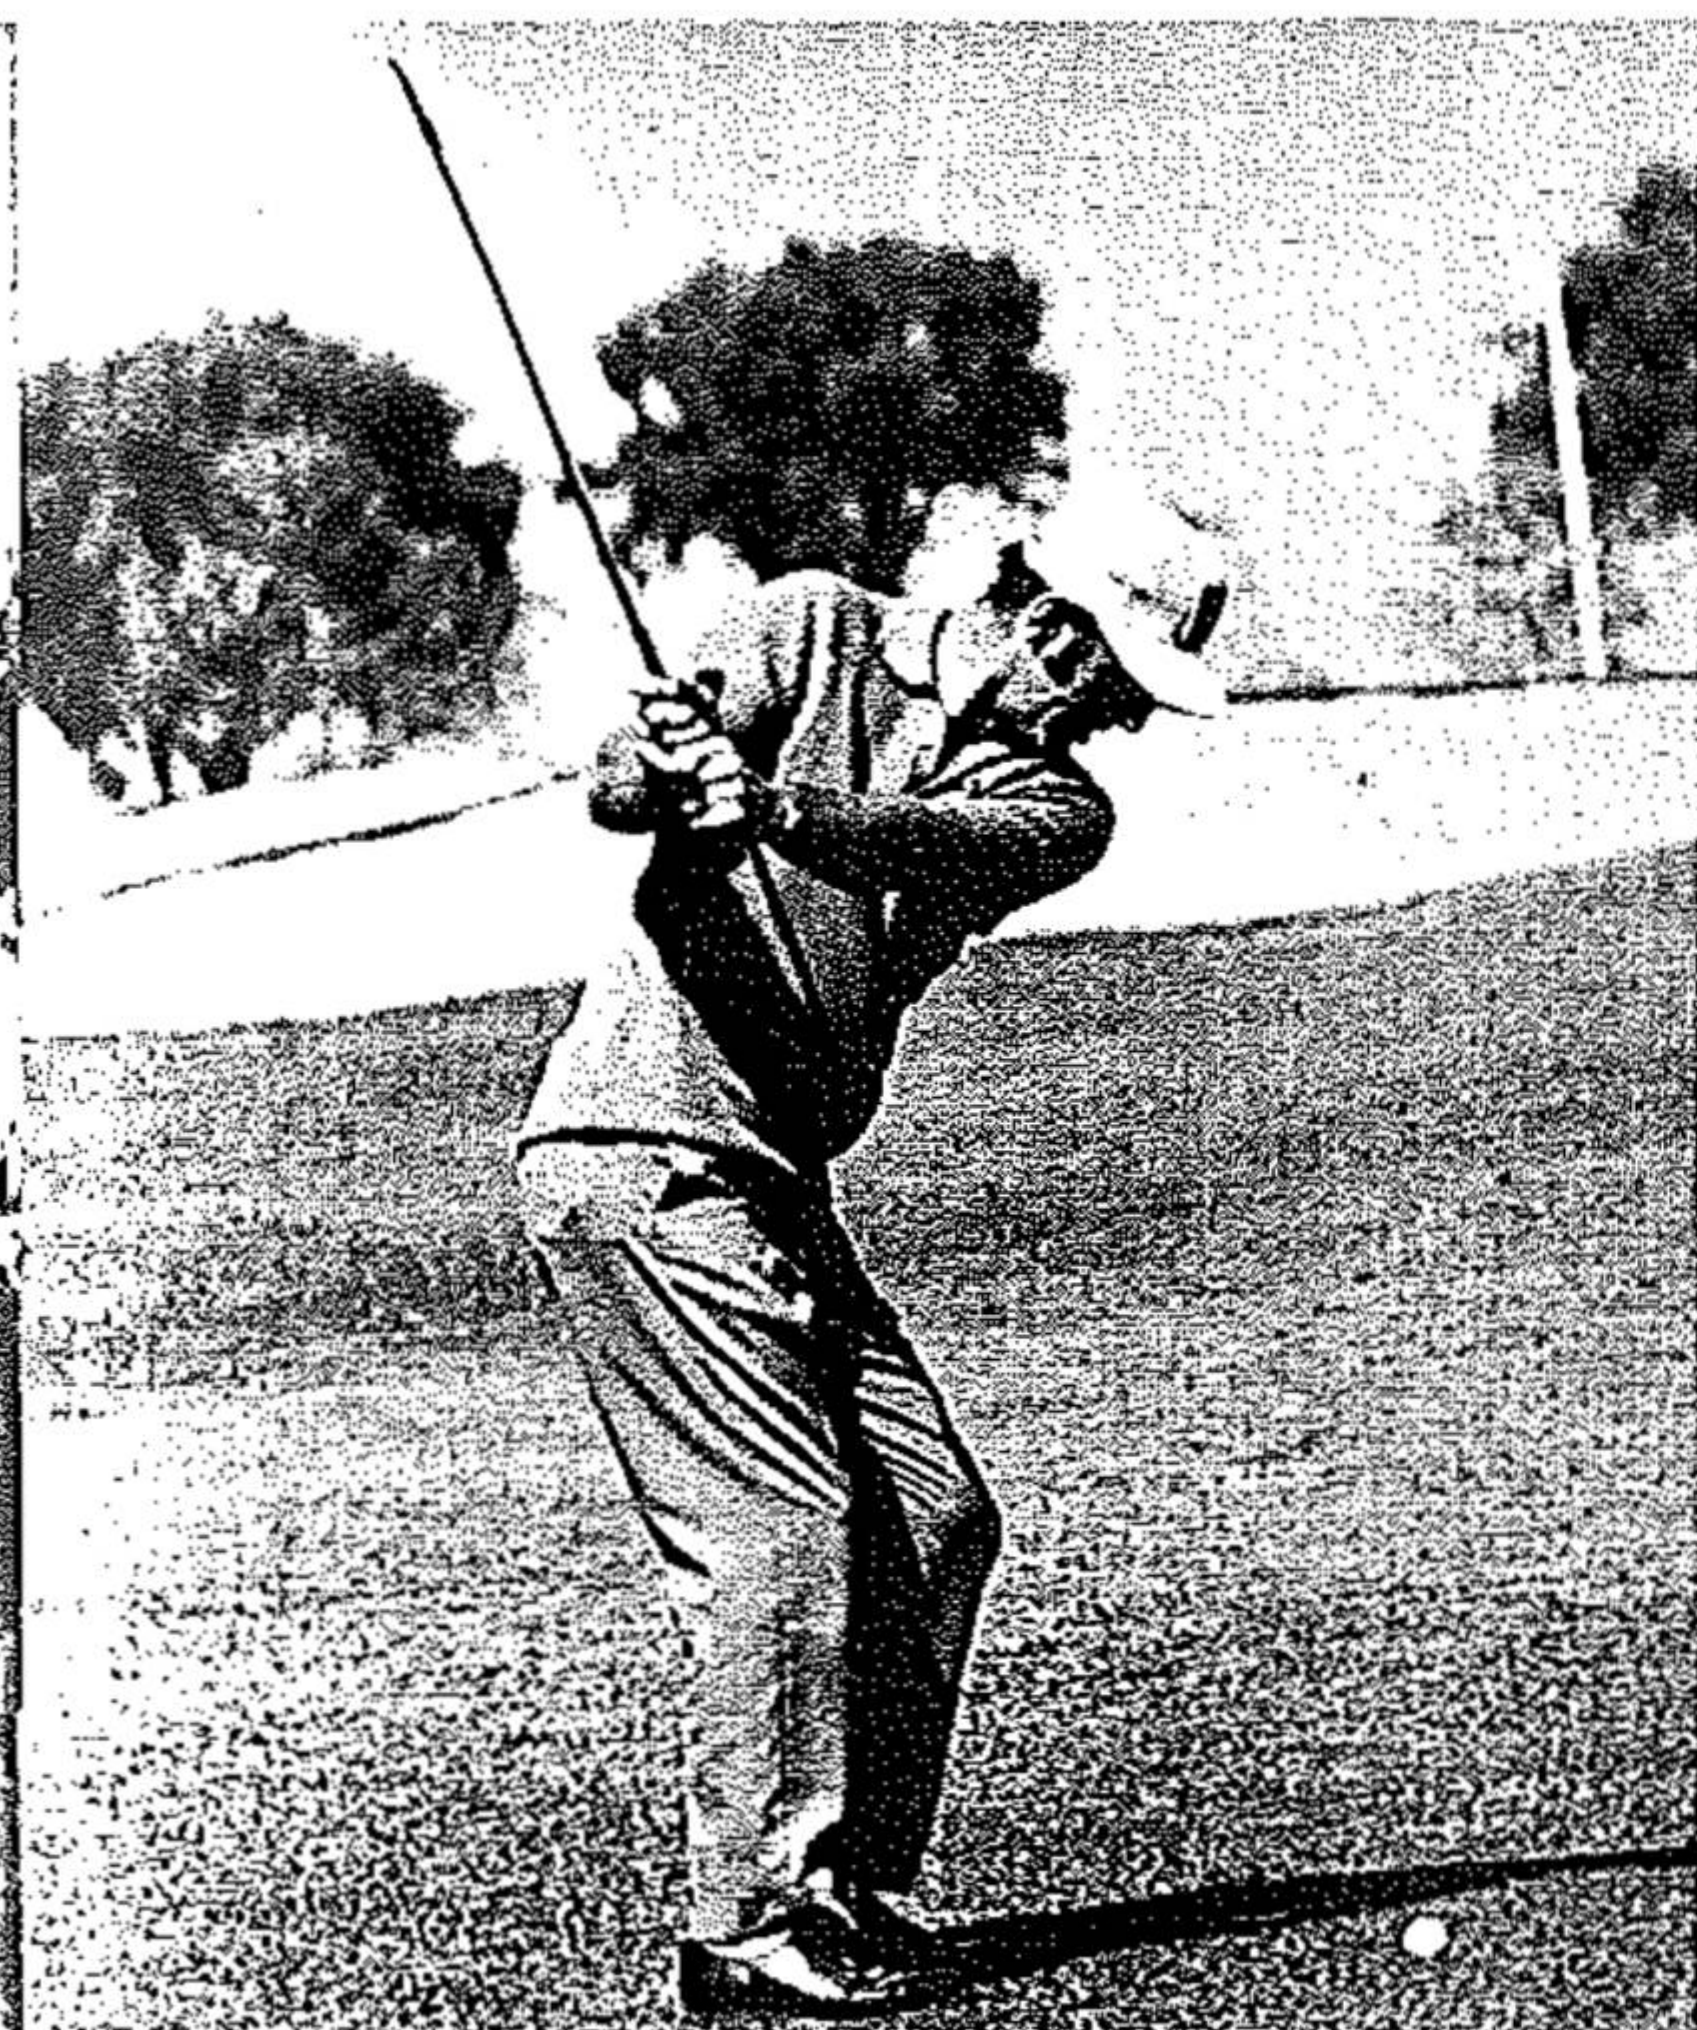

No matter that the United States won its fourth Championship, and rather handily at that; the really important development was the interest shown in friendly competition by so many peoples of differing backgrounds, races and national origins.

Look at some of the countries who attended—Papua/New Guinea, Finland, Peru, Pakistan, Iceland, Korea, Bermuda, Italy, the Republic of China. How diverse a gathering.

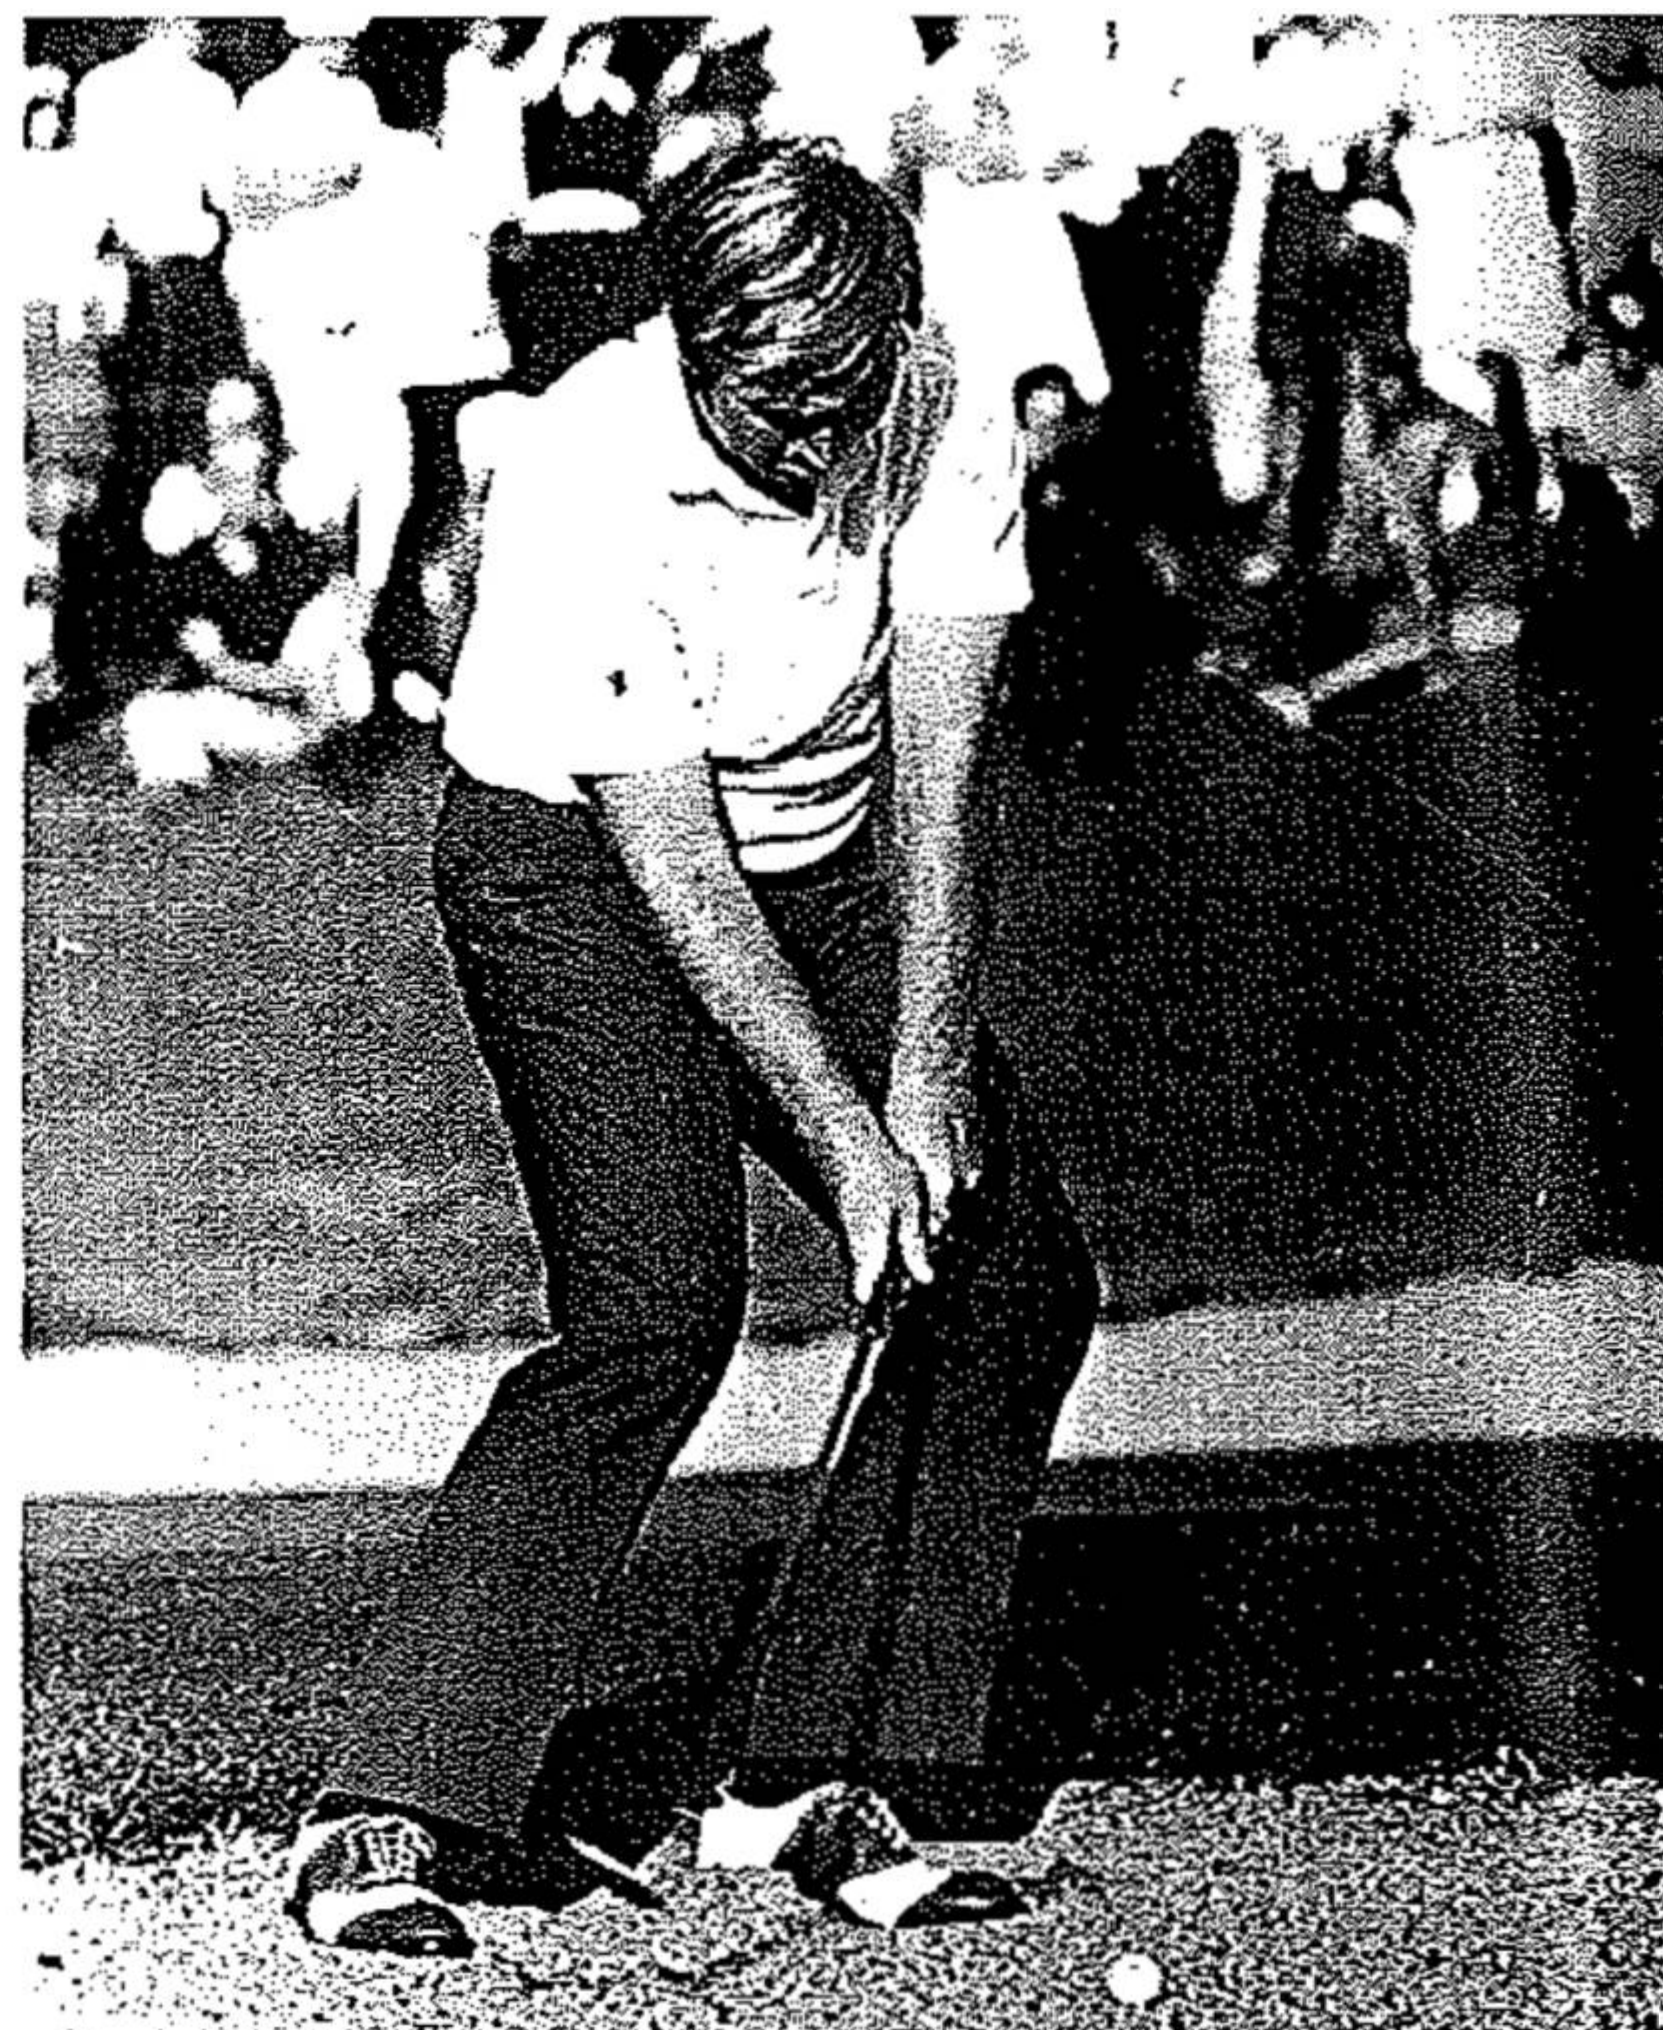

And yet even this fulfillment of the competition's purpose could not overshadow the victory of the United States Team. The Americans had a total score of 854 and won by 15 strokes over New Zealand, with 869.

The United States brought a particularly strong team to Spain, including Lanny Wadkins, who had won the United States Amateur Championship earlier in the month, and Tom Kite, Jr., who had finished second to Wadkins by one stroke. The other members of the United States Team were Marvin Giles, III, runnerup in the U.S. Amateur the three preceding years, and Allen L. Miller, III.

At the end of the first round, however, it looked as if the Americans would be

Stuart Jones was a member of the New Zealand team which finished second.

Allen Miller, III, from the United States.

rather hard pressed to defend the Championship successfully. A 70 by Wadkins, 71 by Kite and 72 by Miller gave the Americans a team total of 213, but they were only one stroke ahead of South Africa. Dale Hayes scored 70, and Dave H. Symons and Hugh J. Baiocchi each had 72.

From that point, however, the United States simply widened its lead, going seven strokes ahead after the second round, and nine strokes in front after the third round.

The real battle was for second place, and at the end of the 36 holes it looked as if some team from other than an English speaking nation might finish higher than fifth place. Behind a marvelous 67 by Victor Regalado, Mexico tied South Africa at 433.

Mexico had been fifth in 1962 and again in 1966, and Argentina had been fifth in 1958, and so the prospects were promising that Mexico might be the first to better fifth place. This was as high as Mexico was to climb, however, and eventually the team finished fifth once more, four strokes away from second place, but only two away from fourth.

South Africa went into the final round leading Australia by two strokes and New Zealand by three. New Zealand finished with a rush, scoring 217 and overtaking South Africa as Edward John McDougall scored 70, Stuart Jones 73, and Ross Murray 75. South Africa slipped to 221 for the final round, and barely managed to hold off Australia. The Australians finished fourth, one stroke behind South Africa.

The superiority of the United States team was further emphasized by the experience of Giles. He scored 73 in each of the first two rounds, and yet neither of those scores counted. The three lowest scores from each round count toward the team total for that round, and every other member of the United States Team scored better. And then Kite was ill during the final round and didn't play. This was the only time during the competition that the United States had to include a score as high as 73. It was played by Miller.

Because this is strictly a team competition, individual scores are not recognized officially, but the performance of Victor Regalado should not go un-noticed. His 67 was the lowest single round of the competition, and his total of 280 was the lowest individual score by six strokes. Wadkins had the second lowest 72-hole score of 286.

In addition, his 67 paced Mexico to the low single round team score of 212.

Delegates and Duffers Cup

The Republic of China has but 13 golf courses for its 5,000 golfers, but those who play them must play well. K.U. Dzung, who plays to a 15 handicap, had a 36-hole net score of 140 and won the Delegates and Duffers Cup. George Wardman, of Bermuda, was second with net 144. Wardman has a 4 stroke handicap. Edward L. Meister, Jr., of the United States, won the guest division with 139.

Meeting of World Council

At the biennial meeting of the World Amateur Golf Council the format for the World Senior Amateur Championship was changed. Beginning with the 1971 World Senior Amateur Championship at the Fuji Golf Course in Kawana, Japan, the format will be as follows:

Thirty-six holes of stroke play by each four-man team, followed by singles match play in flights of four. The Number 1 players on two opposing teams will compete for a point, the Number 2 players will compete for a point, and so on. The team with the most points will win. The four lowest-scoring teams in the 36-hole qualifying round will comprise the Championship flight.; the four teams in positions five through eight will comprise the Second Flight.; and so on.

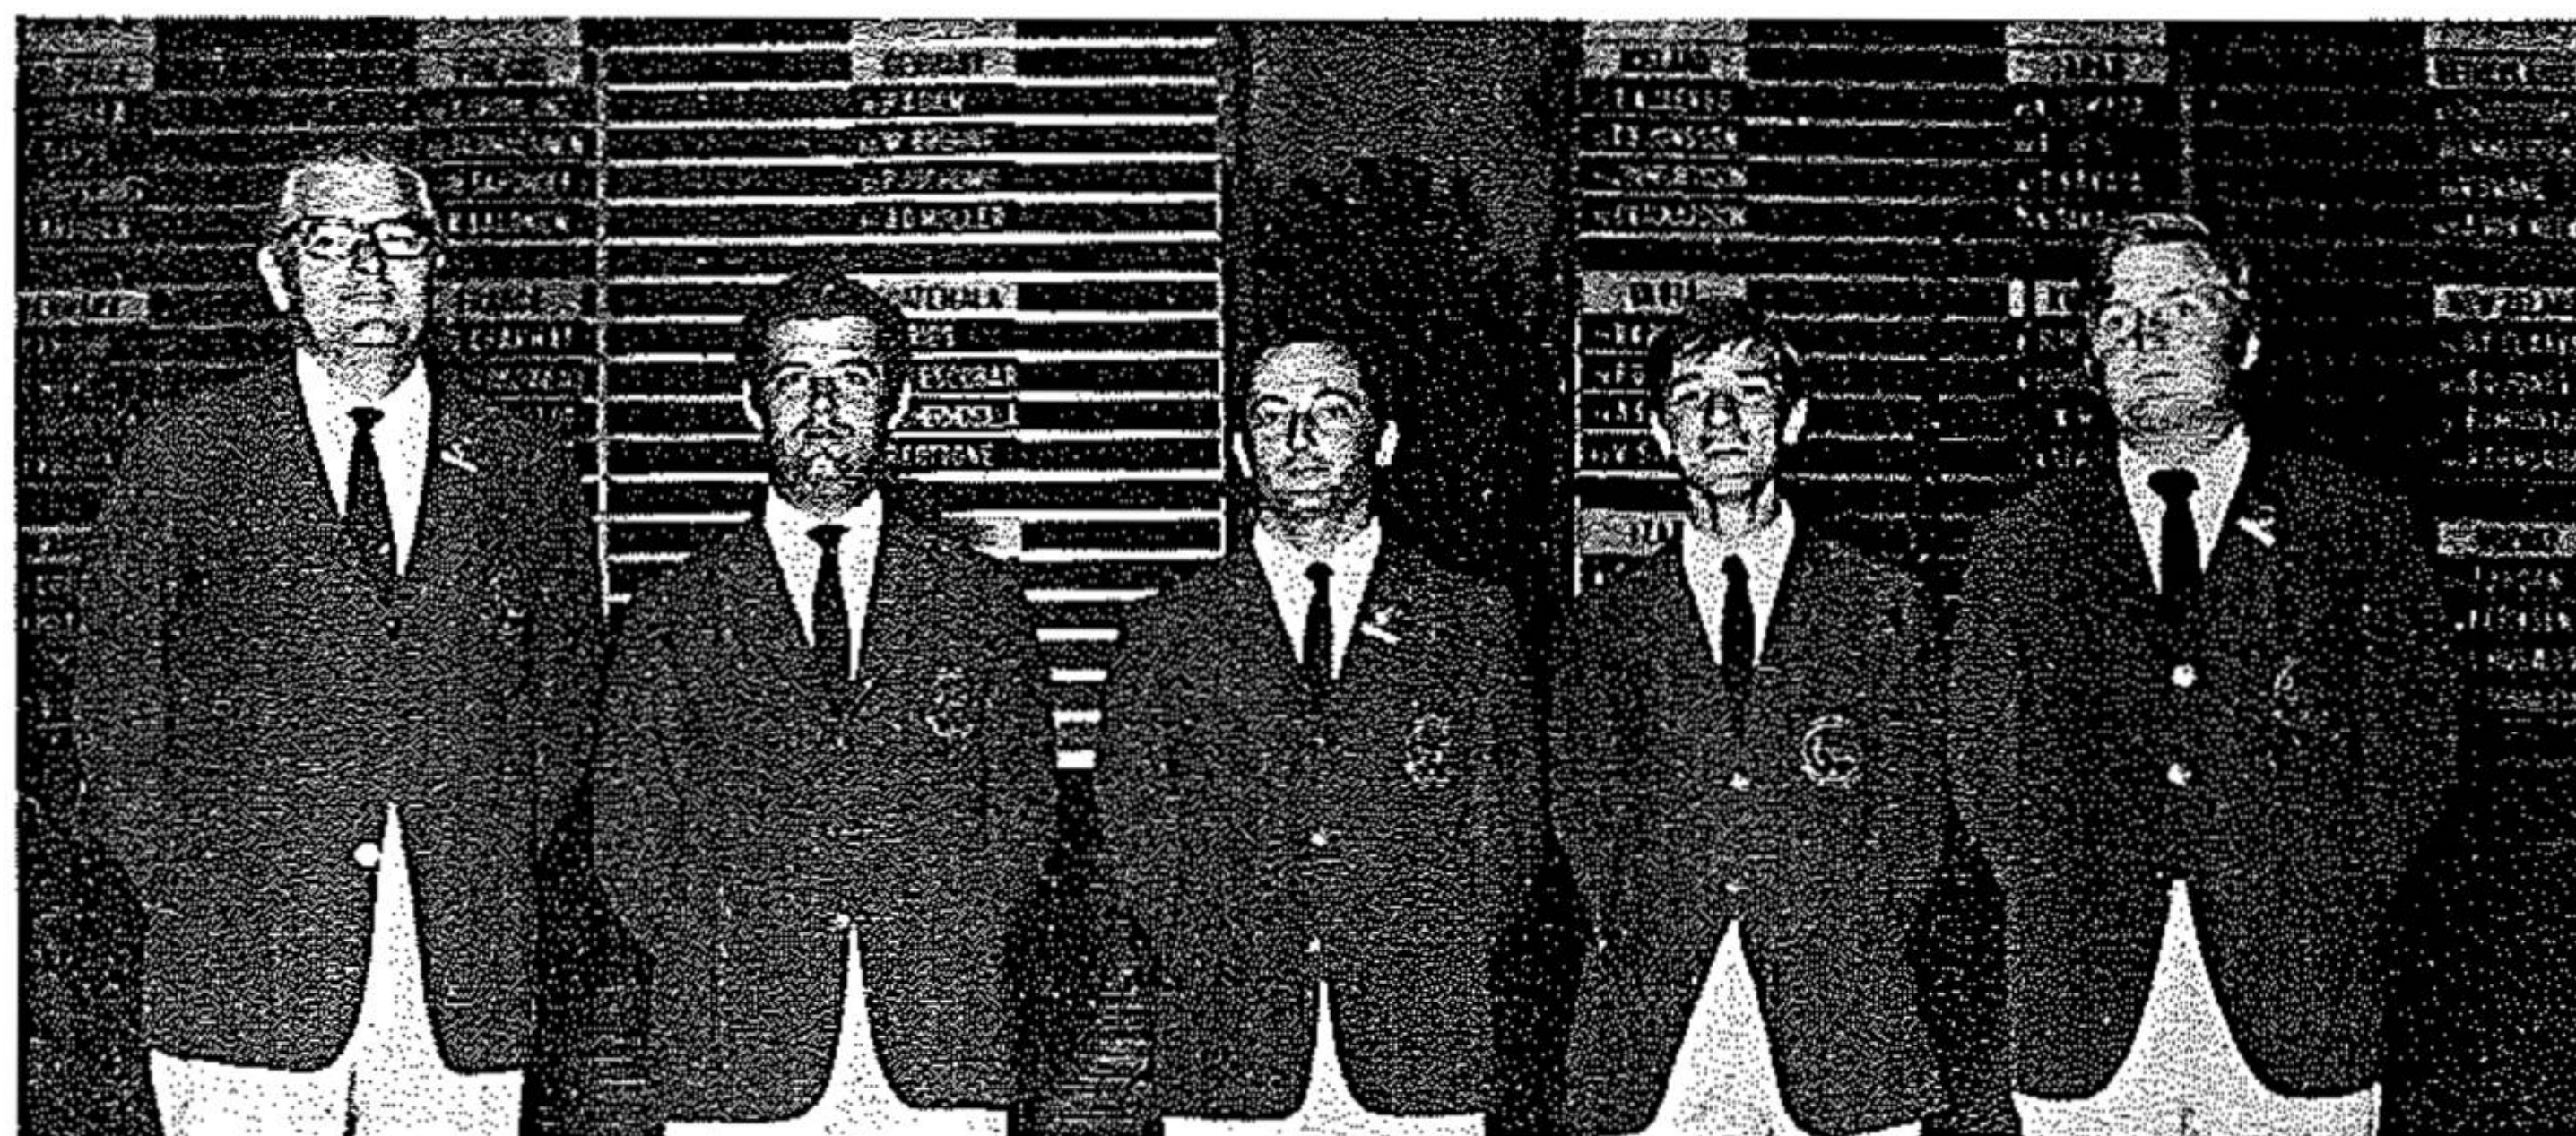

Previously the format for the World Senior Amateur Championship was four rounds of stroke play with the three lowest scores from each team counting toward a daily Team Score.

The following delegates were present:

THE 1970 WOMEN'S TEAM CHAMPIONSHIP

In the mid 1930s one of the bitter battles of the Spanish Civil War raged over the valleys near what is now the R.S.H.E. Club de Campo.

Playing the fourth Women's World Amateur in such a setting brought home to the participants once more the principal purpose behind formation of the World Amateur Golf Council: to promote friendship and sportsmanship among people.

Twenty-two countries entered teams, the most since the inaugural Championship in France in 1964 and it was good to see among them three countries that had not sent women's Teams before—Uruguay, Switzerland and Norway.

In contrast to the men's event a week earlier, competition in the Women's Championship was intense, and the issue was decided on the very last hole when Miss Martha Wilkinson sank a two-foot putt to give the United States a one-stroke victory. The United States had a team total of 598 and France 599. South Africa was another seven strokes behind France at 606.

France took a four-stroke lead in the first round behind a 70 by Mrs. Claudine Cros-Rubin and 71 by Miss Brigitte Varangot for a team total of 141. Miss Jane Bastanchury and Miss Cynthia Hill, meanwhile, combined for 145 for the United States.

Mrs. Marlene Stewart Streit of Canada shown playing from the 11th tee on the final day was low individual scorer for her team.

Mrs. Catherine Lacoste de Prado of France drives from the 10th tee during the exciting final round of play.

Miss Sally Little of South Africa was the only player who managed to score under 300 for the four rounds on the R.S.H.E. Club de Campo course.

France then increased its lead to seven strokes as Mrs. Catherine Lacoste de Prado scored 74.

The Americans cut their deficit to two strokes after 54 holes as Miss Bastanchury shot 75 and Miss Wilkinson 75 in the third round, setting the stage for the dramatic final round and a confrontation between Mrs. de Prado, the 1969 United States Women's Amateur Champion, and Miss Wilkinson, her successor.

They were grouped together for the fourth round, and after nine holes they were stroke-for-stroke. Then on the final nine holes Miss Wilkinson played steadily but Mrs. de Prado could not keep control of her game. She missed a 30-inch putt on the 10th, was short coming into the 491-yard par 5 12th, missed a three-foot putt on the 15th, and three-putted from 25 feet on the 16th. She was then four strokes behind Miss Wilkinson and the good French lead was gone. The French trailed by one stroke at the 18th, and to bring on a tie Mrs. de Prado had to hole a 30-footer. When it missed, and Miss Wilkinson sank her putt from two feet the United States had won its third straight women's Championship.

Individual awards are never given, but it is worth noting that Miss Sally Knight Little, of South Africa, was the only player able to break 300. Miss Little scored 76-74-74-75-299. Mrs. Rubin had one high round, and 81 but the others were so well played that she finished with 301.

Everyone seemed to enjoy their golf, not the least Miss Masuyo Toyama, whose scores made an admirable downward progression—91-87-83-76.

Section 5. Duties of Women's Committee

The Women's Committee shall conduct the affairs of the Women's Division, subject to directions of the Council, and shall advise the Council on matters relative to the Women's Amateur Team Championship. Matters of policy shall be determined by the Council.

ARTICLE XVI

Senior Amateur Team Championship

Section 1. General

The Council shall conduct a Senior Amateur Team Championship, open to Teams representing the Member Organizations.

Competitors shall be at least 55 years of age on the first day of the Championship.

All relevant provisions and principles of Articles IV, V, VI, VII and XII shall apply except as follows.

Section 2. Time

The Championship shall be conducted biennially in the Autumn, in alternate years from the Men's and Women's Championships. Specific dates should be subject to approval of the Administrative Committee.

Section 3. Place

(a) Each Member Organization will be invited to send a delegate to a meeting to be held during the Senior Championship to consider invitations to entertain the next Senior Championship. The recommendation of the delegates at this meeting shall be subject to approval of the Administrative Committee.

(b) Invitations to entertain the Senior Championship shall be submitted by Member Organizations to the Secretary at least three months in advance of the meeting of delegates.

Section 4. Form of Play

(a) Each Team shall consist of four players.

(b) The Championship shall consist of a 36-hole stroke play qualifying competition over two days, 18 holes on the first Championship day and 18 holes on the second Championship day, followed by two rounds of match play over two days in flights of 4.

(c) In each 18-hole qualifying round, the total of the three lowest scores by players of a Team shall constitute the Team's score for that round. The total of a Team's three-player scores for the two rounds shall be the Team's qualifying score.

(d) Teams shall be placed in flights for match play according to qualifying scores, with the four lowest-scoring Teams comprising the Championship Flight, the Teams in positions 5 through 8 comprising the Second Flight, and so on.

(e) In event of a tie for last place in the Championship Flight, there shall be a sudden-death playoff among all players of the tied Teams, with the three lowest scores by players of a Team constituting the Team's score for a hole. A tie for last place in any other flight shall be decided by lot.

(f) In each flight, Teams shall be numbered 1 through 4 based on qualifying scores. In event of a tie, Team numbers shall be decided by lot. In the first round of match play Team No. 1 shall play Team No. 3, and Team No. 2 shall play Team No. 4. In the second round of match play, the first-round winners shall play for first place and the first-round losers shall play for third place. Prizes shall be awarded to each member of the first, second and third place Teams in each flight.

(g) The winner of a match shall be determined as follows: Prior to each match, each Team Captain shall present to the Committee by a specified time his Team's line-up, i.e., a list of his players numbered 1 through 4. The No. 1 players of two opposing Teams shall play an 18-hole match for one point, the No. 2 players shall play for a point, and so on. In event of a tied match, each player shall be awarded ½ point. The Team with the most points shall be the winner.

(h) In event of a tie between two opposing Teams in the Championship Flight, there shall be a sudden-death playoff among all players of both teams, i.e., the first Team "up" after a hole shall be the winner. For example, if the No. 1 player of Team A wins the first extra hole from the No. 1 player of Team B, the No. 2 player of Team B wins the first extra hole from the No. 2 player of Team A, the No. 3 player of Team A wins the first extra hole from the No. 3 player of Team B and the No. 4 players of the two teams halve the first extra hole, Team A would be the winner. Ties in other flights shall be decided on a margin-of-victory basis. If the opposing Teams are also tied on a margin-of-victory basis, there shall be a sudden-death playoff as in the Championship Flight. The winner on a margin-of-victory basis is the Team with the highest figure when the margin-of-victory figures of its winning players are totaled. For example, if players No. 1 and 3 of Team A win by 4-2 and 2-1 and players No. 2 and 4 of Team B win by 3-2 and 2-1, Team A would be the winner as the total of its margin-of-victory figures is 9 (4+2+2+1) compared with 8 (3+2+2+1) for Team B.

(i) All matches in a given flight will tee off in immediate succession. If necessary, play shall be in groups of four, i.e., the No. 1 players of two opposing Teams would play their match concurrently with the No. 2 players of the same Teams. They would be followed immediately by the No. 3 and 4 players of the same Team.

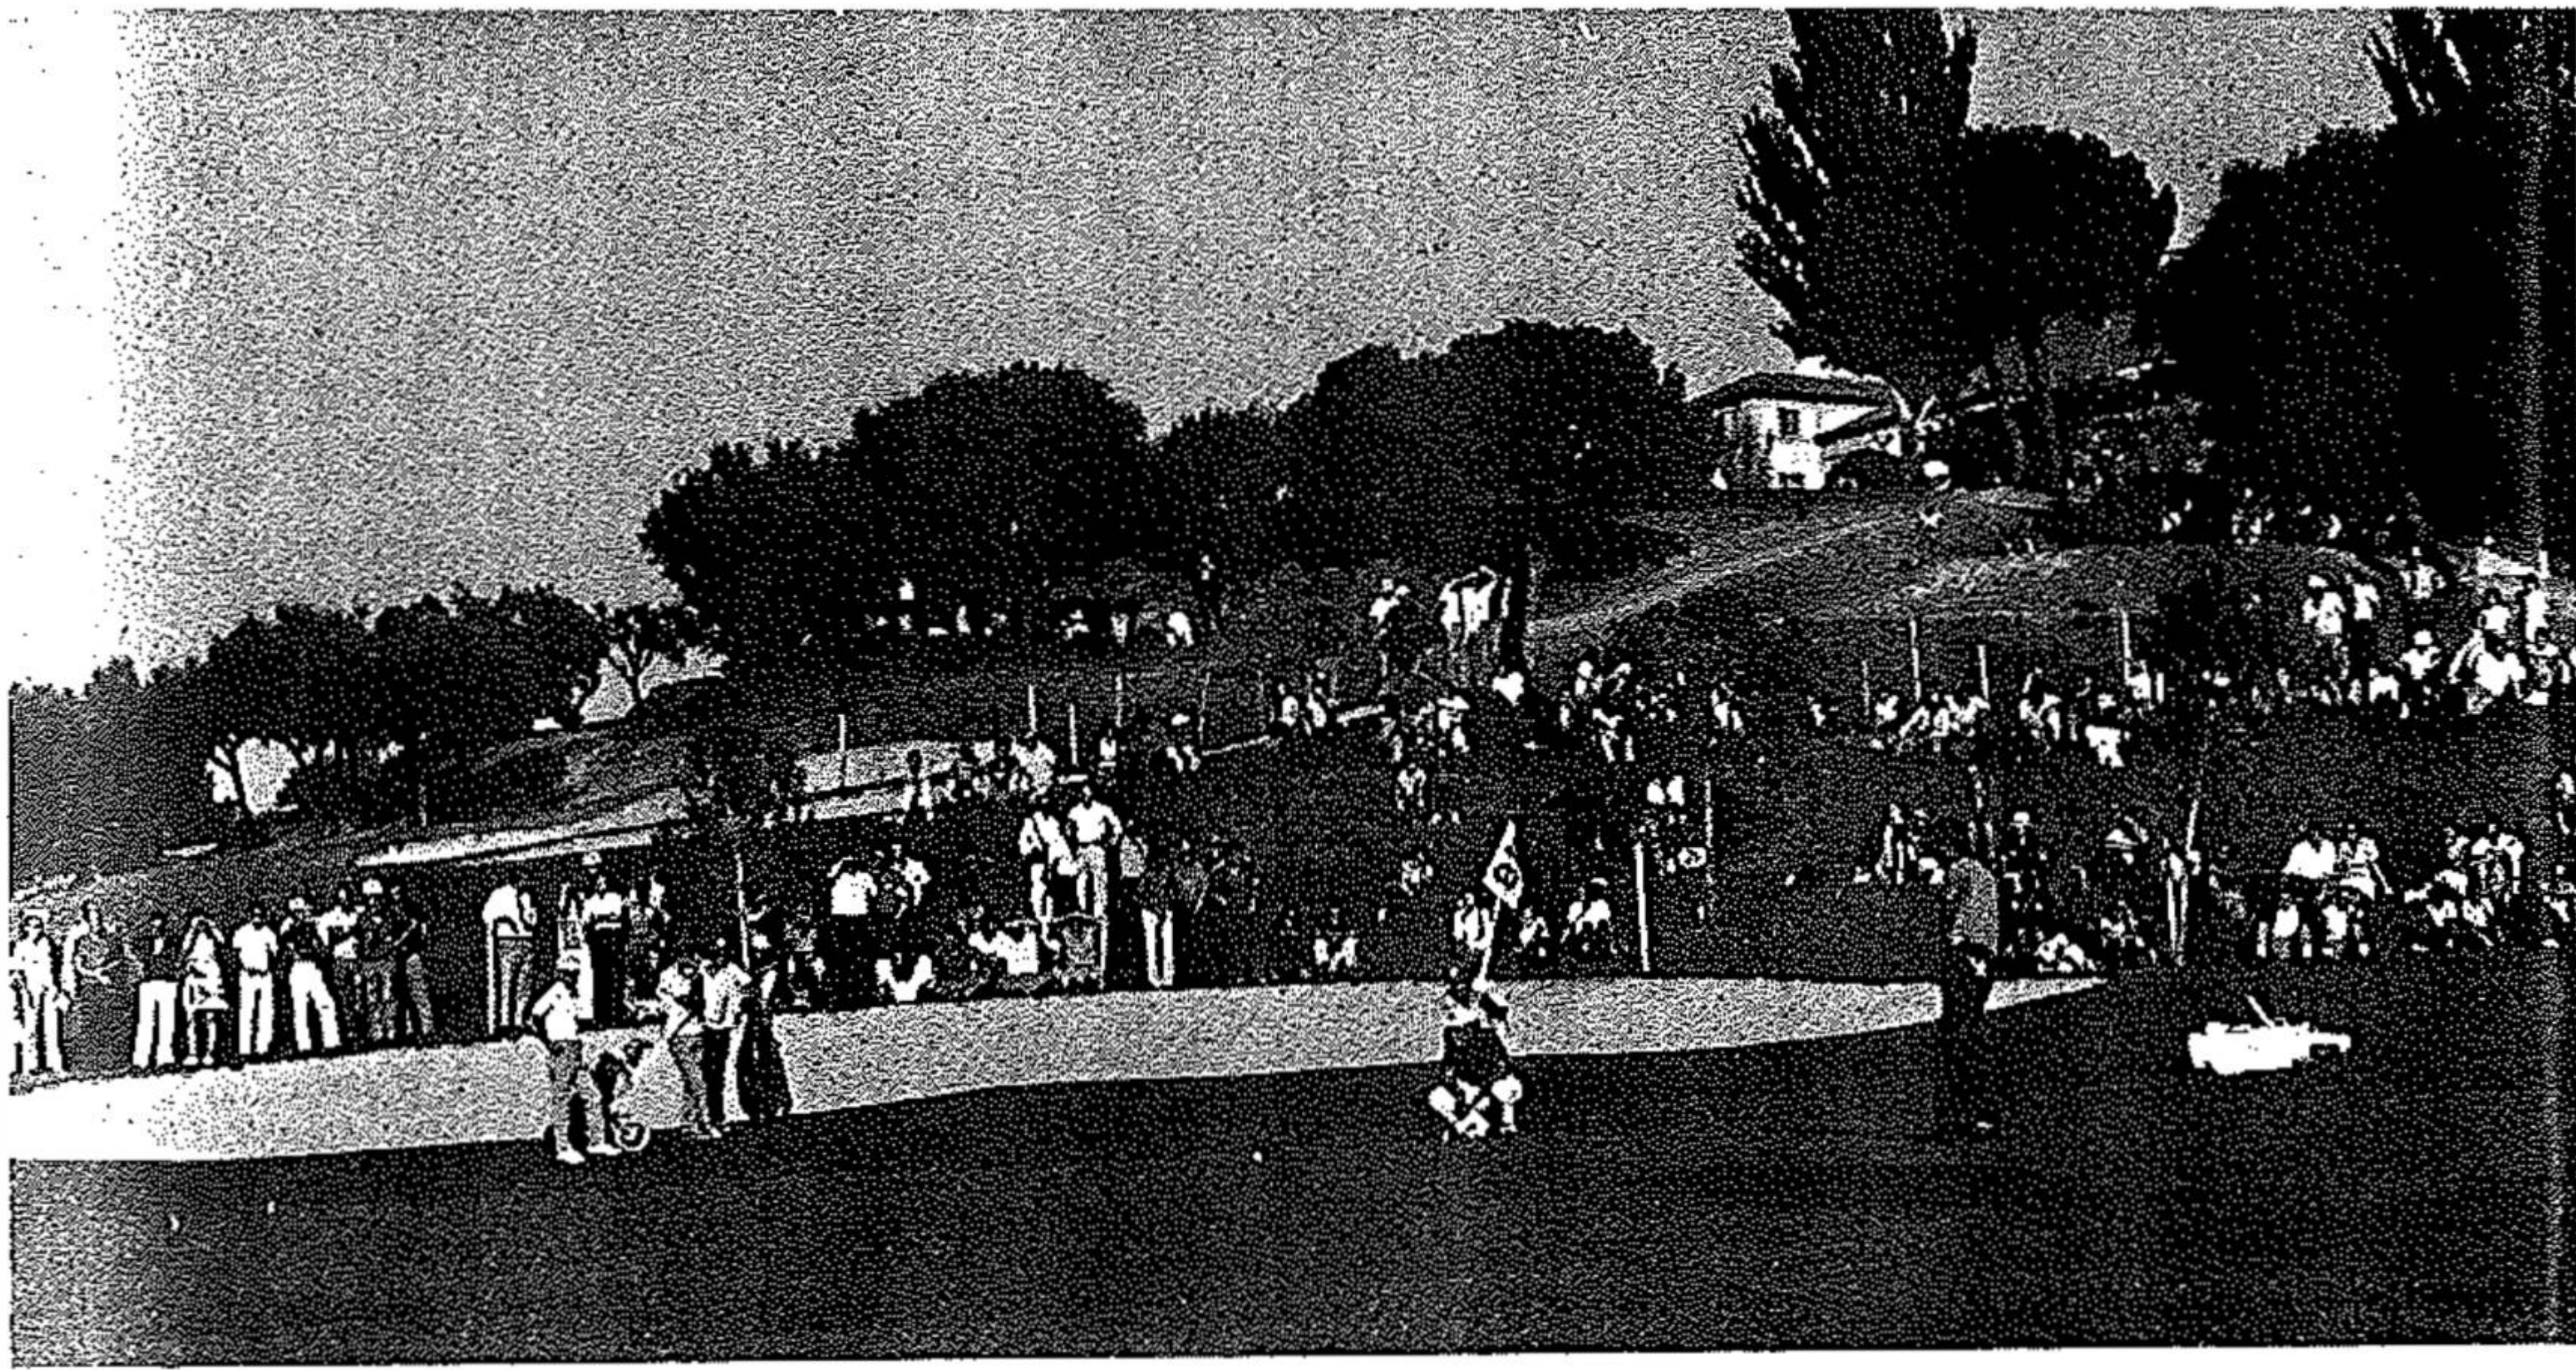

(j) If the total number of Teams entered is divisible by 4, each flight shall comprise four Teams. If the total is not divisible by 4, the following schedule will be used. In flights of less than four Teams, bye(s) shall be used for the last place(s):

No. of Teams in Each Flight	Teams Entered	(Championship Flight Listed First, Etc.)
9	4 - 3 - 2
10	4 - 4 - 2
11	4 - 4 - 3
13	4 - 4 - 3 - 2
14	4 - 4 - 4 - 2
15	4 - 4 - 4 - 3
17	4 - 4 - 4 - 3 - 2
18	4 - 4 - 4 - 4 - 2
19	4 - 4 - 4 - 4 - 3

Section 5. Prizes

The Shun Nomura Trophy, presented to the Council by friends of golf in Japan through the Japan Golf Association, shall be held for the ensuing biennium by the Member Organization whose Team is the winner.

In the event of abandonment of the Senior Amateur Team Championship, such use or other disposition of the Shun Nomura Trophy shall be made as the Japan Golf Association may in its discretion determine.
